An Evening of Shopping and Fun: "COUTURE ON THE AVENUE"

By Kristin Hudock

"Couture on the Avenue"—the JLP thrift shop's premiere shopping opportunity this season—was a record success. On the evening of Friday September 5th JLP members, friends and the community attended this event, held in conjunction with First Friday in Ardmore. Couture fashion by Missoni, Calvin Klein, Theory and Valentino and Loeffler Randall shoes were sold at bargain prices of 75% off retail. These never-worn, luxury pieces were snatched up by savvy shoppers, while they enjoyed complimentary wine and hors d'oeuvres. In addition to being a lucrative fundraiser, this occasion increased our community visibility and inspired new JLP thrift store buyers sure to come back for future deals. In four hours, we raised over $15,000 dollars. All of the proceeds support the Junior League of Philadelphia and our neighborhood outreach programs. The garments were generously donated by the Diane Beloff Boutique formerly located at 20 Station Road in Haverford. JL

JLP President Heid Tirjan of Gulph Mills, President-Elect Samantha Soldan of Havertown, and Sustainer Bev Galloway of Bryn Mawr were joined by over 300 other chic shoppers at this special JLP Thrift Shop event in Ardmore.

Join Us for an Evening of Champagne and Shopping at King of Prussia!

By Noel Kramer

The JLP Fundraising Committee is working with Molton Brown and Kate Spade to plan a fundraising event on October 7th from 5:30-9:30 PM at the King of Prussia Mall. Tickets to the Molton Brown event will be sold for $10 on the JLP website and at various upcoming meetings, and all of the money from ticket sales will go to the JLP. Molton Brown will be providing champagne and hors d'oeuvres while shoppers preview their new holiday collection, which will be available for pre-sales. Each ticketholder will also receive several raffle tickets for prizes donated by King of Prussia Mall merchants (previous prizes have included such items as a Salvatore Ferragamo tie and a Swarovski crystal brooch!). An additional raffle ticket will be given for each $50 purchase as well, for more chances to win. All attendees will receive a gift bag filled with Molton Brown samples and other goodies, and hand treatments will also be available for extra pampering. Kate Spade will also be participating in our fundraiser that evening by offering a discount to shoppers and donating 10% of the proceeds to the JLP. Kate Spade will be providing champagne cocktails and appetizers, since we all know how serious shopping can work up an appetite! We are looking into expanding the shopping event to involve J. Crew and Crewcuts, and more details will become available once the event plans are finalized. With the perfect combination of champagne, snacks and shopping, this is an event you won't want to miss, so please bring your friends and support the JLP at this shopping and social event that truly offers something for everyone! President's Perspective

By Heidi Tirjan

After watching the U.S. swim team compete in the Beijing Summer Olympic Games, I began to wonder about what drives people to greatness, what motivates them, why do they work so hard for so long and what can we learn from them to energize our work in the community with the Junior League of Philadelphia. So, I googled the word "Motivation". An entry appeared from "getmotivation.com" saying that the root word of motivation is "Motive" and that the definition of motive is, "A reason to act".

Intrigued, I read on. The passage focused on two core elements that drive motivation: "vision" and "passion". Thinking hard about this, I felt maybe I was on to something...

Reflecting back on the games, I thought about the phenomenon of Michael Phelps winning eight gold medals and breaking multiple world records. The world watched his amazing performance without the slightest awareness of the years of dedicated preparation and commitment. The news commentators could hardly speak about swimming without mentioning the potential to witness history by Phelps winning more gold medals than any athlete since the modern Olympics began. Few dared to believe it would actually happen. Phelps did. He had a vision. Then there was Dara Torres. Beijing was Dara's fifth Olympics. She won three silver medals at the age of 41. Talk about inspiration! Think about the level of passion necessary to train for decades after college, as a mother, at world championship levels. She had nothing to prove to anyone, just the intense love of her sport and a deep desire to accomplish all that she possibly could.

Phelps and Torres are the embodiment of sportsmanship and athletic excellence.

They set challenging goals for themselves, based on their unique abilities and an attainable vision of what they could accomplish. They committed themselves to a plan to attain those goals and stuck to their plans. They felt good about what they were doing and felt good about doing it well. They channeled the energy that comes from passion into consistent hard work and achieved extraordinary things. They attained greatness.

We have a collective mission for the Junior League of Philadelphia, but each of us also must craft a vision for ourselves within the League and within our community. None of us can accomplish all that we are capable of unless we first consciously construct a vision of who we want to be as people. Given our own individual strengths and weaknesses, what can we realistically achieve? How can we make the greatest impact on our community? How do we want to be remembered?

I ask you all to imagine the impact we could make, if every one of us applies all of our skills and all of our passion to a shared vision for a better community. I ask you to dare to dream bold thoughts. I ask you to dare to commit yourselves to making a huge difference. Use your motivation to realize something great!

Cookbook

By Paula Brumbelow

The members of the Cookbook Committee worked through the summer and into the fall. The committee held several tasting events and approved over 230 recipes for the new book. Thanks to the member-supported tasting events and recipe donations the JLP anticipates publishing a great book. We appreciate all of your help and continued efforts toward making the book a resounding success.

The Cookbook Committee selected a title for the book that reflects our unique region and evokes the message and mission of our book. The JLP Board approved the title Philadelphia: Food and Friends in June. The name reflects our position as a major city by featuring Philadelphia prominently in the title. The Committee selected to use 'Food' to clearly express that the cookbook is about great food first and foremost, with an emphasis on regional traditions and cuisine. 'Friends' was selected for the double meaning it has for locals. The first meaning is that this area was founded by the Society of Friends, and many Quaker ideals still influence the region today. 'Friends' also reminded us that when we are with people we cherish and gather with them, food is part of that circle of sharing recipes, breaking bread together, and enjoying each other's company.

In August, several team members were on location at Foster's Homeware, where the store graciously opened their classroom kitchen and facility for us to prepare 25 member-submitted recipes for a week-long photo shoot. We worked closely with acclaimed food photographer, Stuart Goldenberg, and his assistant, Luke Haggerty, to capture the food in a way you would want to share with your friends. Chef Christopher Koch brought our recipes to life in the classroom kitchen at Foster's Homeware, all while giving quick lessons on technique and the use of ingredients to members. The food was given a polished presentation by stylist Barbara Botting, who was able to pull all of the plates, bakeware and serving pieces throughout the store to be used in the photographs. Thanks to them for producing stunning photographs for our book, to Foster's for their generous in-kind donation, and to committee member, Madeline Adams, for making the arrangements and overseeing the process.

The Committee will now be making a major push towards sponsorship this fall. We are looking to raise close to $100,000 to pay for the book in advance. This will be a long term fundraiser for the JLP, which we anticipate will raise above $200,000 (over several years) and leave a long lasting impression in the region and among cookbook collectors. We are highlighting many local companies, but would appreciate any suggestions or contacts within your companies that you may have. We also have a special membership level that is worth two ways and means credits and the publication of your name in the Sponsorship section of the book.

Many people have asked how they can help out with the cookbook now that the tasting events are concluded. We have several ways, but are always open to new ideas. Please contact Paula Brumbelow at brumbe@gmail.com with any questions, comments, or concerns.

Here are easy ways to help Philadelphia: Food and Friends:

1. Help host a Book Talk to a non-Junior League of Philadelphia group in the region.
2. Help sell the book to friends, family, co-workers, book clubs, etc.
3. Ask employer or corporate friends if they would like to sponsor the cookbook. If a member brings in a donation of $500 or more they will receive one Ways and Means Credit.
4. Become a Member Sponsor for $250.

October General Membership Meeting: A Community Bus Tour

By Dianne Smith

Please join us for a ride down memory lane, as we tour past projects as well as some current ones that have been greatly impacted by the Junior League of Philadelphia. We will begin and end the tour at the Water Works by the Art Museum. We will visit the Duckery School, Belmont Mansion, Help Philadelphia, Sweetbriar Mansion, Smith Family Playhouse and the Water Works. This should be an exciting day of sightseeing and fun. Please note, we will be doing some walking, so remember to wear comfortable shoes. After the tour, we invite you to lunch at Rembrandt's Restaurant in the Art Museum area. We will be tasting our new signature cocktail, the JLPini, so we can induct it into our upcoming cookbook. Tickets for the lunch/social after the bus tour are $30 and include soup or salad, entree, dessert and one of our JLPini cocktails. Please sign up online for just the bus tour or for both the bus tour AND the lunch/social. We look forward to seeing everyone there!

When: Saturday, October 18th

Where: Buses will leave from The Water Works

Time: 10:00 am - 1:00 pm

Thrift Shop

By Patty Franks

The "Couture On The Avenue" gala was a huge success thanks to the hard work of the Thrift Shop Committee, Kim Harrar, and Jenna McMullin. The great publicity which we received from Liz

Naughton and Kristen

Bowman contributed to our success as well. The Shop looked fantastic as it had been spruced up on two successive Sunday work days in August by Sam Soldan's Building Committee and numerous enthusiastic volunteers.

For those of you who were not able to attend, we still have lots of inventory remaining as we initially had 670 items. I am sure there will be at least one thing you just cannot live without. And, of course, we are filled with Halloween items. Come see us.

Upcoming EVT Training Events

Update from the Building Committee: Summer Work Days and Eco-Friendly Improvements

By Sam Soldan

Fresh from the successful renovation of our building's façade, the Building Committee has turned its attention to improving the interior of our facility and planning the next phase of the JLP Headquarter transformation. Much of our attention in the summer months focused on basic stewardship of the building including replacing a leaky stack pipe and a broken air compressor and investigating the source of various leaks throughout the building. In addition, we collaborated with the Thrift Shop Committee and planned three summer Thrift Shop workdays. During these workdays, we cleaned and painted the Thrift Shop break room and furniture room and began painting the shop's shelving and trim. Importantly, this effort included Active, Provisional and Sustaining members of the League and presented an excellent opportunity for members to complete Thrift Shop requirements over the summer while the shop was closed and in the company of other JLP members! The Building and Thrift Shop Committees plan to offer several additional workdays throughout the year.

As we transition to our new focus on Environmental Health and Wellness, the Building Committee is exploring various eco-friendly improvements that we can make in our building renovations and basic operations. To this end, the Building Committee instituted the following practices over the summer:

The Thrift Shop and Office staff began recycling aluminum, paper goods, and cardboard.

Paints used in the Thrift Shop and for all future renovations will be low in Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs)

Promotion of various energy saving measures including replacing light bulbs with low-energy compact fluorescent lights (CFLs) and mandating the practice of turning off computers and lights when they are not in use.

Stay tuned for updates throughout the year as the Building Committee works toward the goal of transforming our Headquarters in to a fully useable space for our membership and a resource for the community we serve.

Getting Involved

By Amelia Warner

When each of us joined the JLP, all of us made a commitment to get involved- get involved in the mission of the JLP, get involved in the committees we would participate on, and get involved in the greater Philadelphia community. We have worked together as a group to turn this involvement into wonderful, positive projects that impact our community and us as volunteers.

Each year that we begin a new committee, we make that commitment again- this year we will be involved. Some of us are leaders, heading up committees or projects, others of us are carrying out the work of our committees, ensuring the League continues to make progress towards our Mission. All are important to the League and its success.

As we build momentum in the 2008-2009 year, the Nominating Committee asks again that we all commit ourselves to being truly engaged and involved in our committee's focus for the year. As we work during the year, think about how you can build your current experience and growing expertise into your next role in the League.

We encourage all who are motivated to participate in leadership roles to contact the Nominating Committee and let us know what role you would like to play next year. We would like all of you to notice who displays leadership skills and let us know who they are. But most of all, we encourage everyone to commit themselves to the roles they have chosen this year and make this their best League experience yet.

Recycle with the R.E.S.P.E.C.T. Nature Club

By Lauren Homel

You know the slogan - Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. Well, the R.E.S.P.E.C.T. Nature Club committee would like to reuse your 2-liter plastic bottles. We need a few hundred of your empty 2-liter bottles for our project work with the Norristown School District. Your 'trash' will become an exciting bird feeder that our 4th graders will take home with them and use to explore the local bird life. So, all you soda-holics out there please help us out! We will need these throughout the year, so please bring them in for collection to the JLP Office or any General Membership Meeting for collection.

Sustainer News

By Betsy Mallon

Sustainer Chair's Perspective

"The Junior League of Philadelphia, Inc. is an organization of women committed to promoting voluntarism, developing the potential of women and improving the community through the effective action and leadership of trained volunteers." We share this mission with the 292 Junior Leagues in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and the U.K.

While attending the AJLI Annual Conference in San Diego last spring I met so many wonderful Sustainers from all over the country, Mexico, Canada and the U.K. I heard about what the other Sustainers are doing and I shared with pride the activities and programs of the JLP Sustainers. Many members already knew about us while others were very interested in learning about the vast array of opportunities our group has to offer its membership.

We are special! We have something for everyone...Bridge, Bookmarks, Cooking Klatch, Garden Club, Evening Sustainers, Larks and 40-Somethings. We organize fun, interesting and thought provoking membership meetings, social events and trips and do our best to "welcome back" or welcome in former or newly transferred members. We advise Active councils and committees, imparting our experiences, training and wisdom...and have a great time doing it.

When we're interested in doing more "hands-on" activities, we're organizing BBB&B and hosting women from other Leagues in our homes, shuttling them to the Philadelphia Flower Show or dinner in members' homes. Or we're making fleece hats, knitting sweaters, collecting books, writing grants or volunteering on our Sustainer Project with the Paul Fly School and making the lives of hundreds of elementary school children and their families better. There is something for everyone in the JLP Sustainer program!

I hope you enjoy many of the events scheduled this month including the D.C. trip, Bookmarks, computer training, bridge and so much more!

Don't forget our Fall Sustainer Membership Dinner Meeting on Tuesday, October 21st at Wyndham, the Alumnae House of Bryn Mawr College. Our guest speaker will be Jane Dammen McAuliffe, new President of Bryn Mawr College. President McAuliffe is known as an outstanding leader, a creative and effective advocate for change and for her vision about women's education. She is the recent Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences of Georgetown University and is an internationally known scholar of Islamic studies. Friends and former JLP members are welcome. Thanks again to Sally Hillyer and Beth McCarthy for planning this terrific evening.

Happy Fall, enjoy the turning leaves and chill in the air!

Best regards,

PS. Glad to see so many Sustainers at the 3rd Annual Women of the Water Works Party in September. As usual it was a lovely event for a very important project.

Nominating News

By Pam Stiner - Chair and Margie Patches -Chair-elect

Welcome nominating members; Didi Rieger, Susie Heller, Beth Gadsden, and Janet Rote.

Nominating Advisors; Louise Hill, Pam Crutchfield, Betsy Mallon and Pam Maimone.

Thank you to all the sustainers who said yes to the Nominating Committee for this year. The Sustainer group can look forward to creative and dedicated leadership from the fall and spring membership meetings to the Thrift Shop and the school project, from the active councils to the return of BBB&B. As always, this is a fantastic group of ladies.

Of course, if you are interested in joining this wonderful group, all you have to do is let the Nominating Committee hear from you. Hopefully, you had the opportunity to fill out the interest form and send it in or you can call any member and self nominate. But most importantly, you can say that powerful three letter word YES to leadership when we call.

Thrift shop news for Hotline

By Joyce Shenian – Thrift Shop Sustainer Chair

Volunteers are desperately needed to help in the Thrift shop. Meet interesting people, shop for luxury merchandise such as Gucci, Rena Lange, Chanel and antiques. You can shop for friends and family while helping the League with the most important and largest fundraising project. For information call Joyce Shenian at (610) 353-7953 or Patty Franks at the shop (610) 896-8828.

BBB&B '09

BBB&B '09 looks like it will be another hit. We had 15 reservations in hand even before the invitations were mailed in August. Previous attendees were watching the JLP web site to see if there was an announcement and Betsy Mallon did a good sales job at Annual Conference building interest and handing out information sheets. Now we need to house these folks! If you have a spare bedroom and bath, we want to hear from you. The invitations go to the Sustainer Chairs at every Junior League in the world and to the presidents of Garden Club of America chapters, so from that pool you're bound to have somebody fun and interesting as a guest.

PLEASE NOTE: You do not need to live in Tara to be a hostess. You just need to be able to provide a bed and bath and two light breakfasts. We're happy if you can take one guest, and over the moon if you can take more. Please contact Nancy Greytok (610-525-8663) or Susan Mease (610-353-5627). And remember, hostesses are invited to the Wednesday night cocktail party and dinner – an event not to be missed.

Sustainer Project

By Judy Ruse

The Sustainer Project this year is offering new personal volunteer opportunities with the children of the Paul V. Fly Elementary School. JLP volunteers are welcome into the classrooms as readers, tutors, classroom assistants etc. The requirements include consistent involvement and routine security clearance.

This new opportunity is due to the credibility and trust that developed over the past school year. Previously, the school administration and staff were not familiar with the Junior League and its mission. Now they have seen first hand, the results of our effective volunteering expertise.

Periodically Mystery Readers come "in character" to read a book or give a small presentation within the school. 'One on one' tutoring/attention is another need for selected students struggling with class material. General hands-on teacher assistance is welcomed and needed. Other opportunities are also available. So if you have the time and interest to work with small children in a teaching environment, please contact Judy Ruse (jruse@verizon.net 610-687-3468) and Marge Devlin (tmdevlin159@comcast.net 610-647-4122) for further information.
